4 次の英文を読んで後の問いに答えなさい。

Hiroshi sat at the kitchen table. He ( 1 ) at the blank sheet of paper in front of him. Then, he looked out the window. For his homework assignment, Hiroshi was trying to decide what kind of career he wanted to have. Once he chose a career, he was supposed to research it so he could share the information with the rest of the class.

Hiroshi wasn't sure what he wanted to be. When he was younger, he thought that he might like to be a firefighter. Hiroshi liked the idea of helping people. He also liked the trucks firefighters drove and thought that it would be an exciting job. After Hiroshi went to his first professional baseball game the summer before, he thought he might like to play baseball professionally. He knew that becoming a professional baseball player was a long shot, so he wanted to think of some other ideas that were more realistic.

When Hiroshi's sister Saki came into the kitchen for a snack a few minutes later, Hiroshi was still sitting there with the blank piece of paper in front of him.

"What are you doing?" she ( 2 ), grabbing a green apple and a handful of cheese crackers.

"I need help," said Hiroshi. "I'm trying to think of things that I might like to do for a career. I don't know where to start,"

Saki ( 3 ). "That doesn't sound too hard," she said, taking a bite of her apple. "I thought your class went on a field trip to a Frank Lloyd Wright building a few months ago and you decided you wanted to be an architect."

"I forgot all about that trip!" ( 4 ) Hiroshi. "I thought that Fallingwater was amazing. I've never seen another building like that. It felt like the house was part of the forest and the waterfall was part of the house," He grinned at his sister. "I would love to design buildings like that," Hiroshi wrote down architect at the top of his paper.

"And didn't you tell Mom and Dad that you wanted to be an oceanographer after you saw that biography of Jacques Cousteau on TV?" asked Saki.

Hiroshi ( 5 ). "I can't believe you remembered that," he said. "That would be an amazing job, too. There are so many things that humans don't know about the ocean yet. I like the mystery of it." He ( 6 ) oceanographer to his list.

"I also seem to remember that someone wanted to be a clown when he was little," teased Saki.

Hiroshi laughed, "Sometimes, I wish [ 7 ]. Thanks, but I think I'll stick with the first two careers on my list."
